2. I would also invite reference to the definite recommendations of the committee appointed to consider the allocation of the Comptroller's Office staff under the reorganisation scheme submitted in 1918.

(1) In selecting certain hands for the Subordinate Account Service ~~Grade~~, the committee proposed that they should be required to pass the examination prescribed for that service and to be exempted before they can be promoted to higher grades therein.

(2) Future promotions, acting and substantive to the ~~Subordinate Account~~ Service were to be restricted to persons who have passed the Subordinate Account Service Examination. Even after the views of Government in favour of granting exemption to old office hands permanently taken to the Subordinate Account Service ~~Grade~~ for promotion to higher grades in that service were communicated to them, the committee adhered to their former opinion. Their remarks bear reproduction here.

x proposal at 'A' supra

"We suggested this x in the best interest of the office, to induce them to study the codes etc., and to promote efficiency. Even now we consider that the individuals would be better Superintendents and the office would be benefitted by our suggestion being followed."

Though finally Government decided not to require the hands to be then permanently appointed to the Subordinate Account Service ~~Grade~~ to pass the prescribed examination, they quite endorsed the second of the proposals referred to above and orders were issued accordingly (Vide Flag E.)

3. It is difficult to understand how a recommendation to admit into the permanent list ~~of~~ officials not ~~passing~~ possessing the necessary qualification can now be considered. It is true that some temporary and acting promotions to the Subordinate Account Service have subsequent to the issue of ~~the~~ the Government order been granted to unpassed men. And the appointment of Mr.K. Narayana Rao as ~~Ag~~. S.P.T. Superintendent is one of them. But such a course was necessary in the special circumstances pointed out by the Comptroller. ~~explaining the delay in holding the first Subordinate Account Service Examination~~. And until sufficient number of passed men are avialable grant of temporary promotions to fill Superintedents charges cannot perhaps be helped. The improvement of the Subordinate Account Service of the Comptroller's Office by securing competent recruits is a very important object, and personal considerations on the ground of advanced age etc., as those now put forward cannot be held to be adequate reasons for granting exemptions from passing the examination prescribed for that service.

SIR,

Adverting to Government Order No.Fl.3250/G.F.13-19 dated the 25th November 1919, I have the honour to report that in a Conference of the Gazetted Officers of this office held on the 19th December 1919 it was unanimously resolved that in the case of Senior Accountants who are now acting or Sub protem Superintendents and who were over 45 years of age on the 25th August 1919 the date on which the first Subordinate Accountants Service Examination was held, it may be recommended to Government that they may be exempted from the operation of the Examination Rules contained in Government Order No.Fl.2731-G.F.92-17-11 dated the 10th December 1918 and confirmed in the grade of Superintendents. I beg therefore to submit to Government the cases of Messrs. L.V. Srinivasa Iyengar, K. Nanjundiah and K.Narayana Rao who if the proposed age test be applied would be eligible for confirmation in the grade of Superintendents in which they are now Sub pro tem. These officials who were found deserving of being promoted to the grade of Superintendents when the Recognised Scale was introduced and who were given temporary promotions for want of permanent vacancies at the time had passed their 51st, 48th and 57th year respectively in August last. It would be hard at this age to require them to sit for any Examination and much more so to undergo a severe test like the Subordinate Accountants Service Examination for being confirmed in their appointments. They were holding charges of important Sections of this office even before the reorganisation and continue to do so even after the reorganisation. In these circumstances, I beg to recommend their case for favourable consideration and I request that you will be so good as to obtain the sanction of Government for their being exempted as a special case from the operation of the Examination Rules and confirmed in the grade of Superintendents on Rs 125/-. This I need hardly add will be a bare recognition on the part of Government of the long and faithful services rendered by these men for over 25 years and will afford to them the benefit of a higher rate of pension after their retirement.

I solicit the favour of early orders.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,
